 - Maintain an average daily balance* of $10,000 or more in this account or
 - The primary accountholder maintains a combined average daily balance of $50,000 or more in a checking and/or savings account(s) or a combined total of $100,000 or more of the average daily balance in a checking and/or savings account(s), and/or the ledger (current) balance in a Certificate of Deposit (CD) account(s).
 - By opening this account, the primary accountholder consents to the right to share with other parties on this account, the existence and balances of all related accounts upon request, and represents and warrants that each co-owner of a related account authorizes the balances of the account to be combined for program benefits.

*The average daily balance is calculated by adding the principal in the account for each day of the period and dividing that figure by the number of days in the period. The period we use is a month.

The primary accountholder is the person identified in the section "Owner/Signer Information" of the Account Agreement used to open this account. The average daily (ledger) balance for related accounts is calculated by adding the principal in the account(s) for each day from the first day of the related account's current statement cycle through the last day of this account's statement cycle, divided by the number of days between these two dates. The current (ledger) balance is the current balance on CD accounts (w/ a primary or joint relationship) that are related to the primary accountholder. The combined average daily (ledger) balance is the sum of the average daily balances in this account and in each checking and/or savings account(s) (w/ a primary or joint relationship) that are related to the primary accountholder. The combined total is calculated by adding the combined average daily (ledger) balance and the ledger (current) balance.

ACH Origination

Automated Clearing House Origination is a safe electronic payment system that transmits data between financial institutions through Cash Manager. ACH is governed by the NACHA Operating Rules. ACH transactions are accumulated and sorted by destination for transmission during a predetermined period. This provides significant economies of scale. It also provides faster processing than paper checks, which must be physically handled. Instead of using paper to carry necessary transaction information, ACH transactions are transmitted electronically between financial institutions through data transmission. A separate application package and an Analyzed Business Checking Account are required.

Smart Safes

F&M Bank's Smart Safes provide a safe, secure and accurate system for high volume, cash-intensive clients. It optimizes cash flow by securing cash quickly and reducing both internal and external theft by eliminating touch points. Smart Safes provide cash counting, validating and immediate securing of cash within a locked vault on the client's premises, which can be purchased or leased. There are three basic components: the physical safe, cash management system, and same-day credit from the Bank. Smart Safes include advanced bill recognition technology, which rejects suspected counterfeit currency at point of sale. By adding the cash management system along with a Smart Safe, the clients can be provided real-time cash flow and deposit information through wireless technology. Functionality of the cash management system includes remote diagnostics; system updating and support; consolidated visibility of all locations within a client's safe network; and consolidated cash management reporting with standard and custom/self-building reports. Following validation, the cash will be delivered to the Bank. A separate application package and an Analyzed Business Checking Account are required.

USA PATRIOT Act and Beneficial Ownership Disclosures

USA PATRIOT Act

To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, Federal law requires all financial institutions to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person who opens an account.

- When you open an account, we will ask for your name, address, date of birth, and other information that will allow us to identify you.
- We may also ask to see your driver's license or other identifying documents.

Beneficial Ownership

Effective May 11, 2018, new rules under the Bank Secrecy Act will aid the government in the fight against crimes to evade financial measures designed to combat terrorism and other national security threats. EACH time an account is opened for a covered Legal Entity, we are required to ask you for identifying information (name, address, date of birth, social security number as well as identification documents) for:

- Each individual who has beneficial ownership (25% or more); and,
- One individual who has significant managerial control, of the Legal Entity.

If you are opening an account on behalf of a Legal Entity, you will be required to provide the appropriate documentation and to certify that this information is true and accurate to the best of your knowledge.

Investment Services – Not FDIC Insured – No Bank Guarantee – May Lose Value

F&M Bank offers investment services to Bank clients, which are not insured by the FDIC, is not a deposit or other obligation of, or guaranteed by, the depository institution; and may be subject to investment risks, including possible loss of the principal amount.

Through the Investment Department, U.S. Treasuries (Bills, Notes, and Bonds), Agencies, Mortgage-Backed Securities, Repurchase Agreements, and Mutual Fund Sweep Accounts can be obtained.

U.S. Treasuries (Bills, Notes, and Bonds), Agencies, and Mortgage-Backed Securities

- U.S. Treasuries are not FDIC insured.
- Minimum purchase
 - Treasury Bills: $10,000
 - Treasury Notes: $5,000

 - Printed Statements: Four quarterly statements are provided at no charge. Additional copies cost $4 per statement.
- Additional Terms and Conditions apply and can be obtained from the Investment Department.

Repurchase Agreements

- Repurchase Agreements are not FDIC insured.
- They are backed by the market value of the Bank owned securities used as collateral for the purchase.
- A Repurchase Agreement is a non-deposit investment account allowing Bank clients to purchase Bank owned securities with the agreement that the Bank will repurchase those securities at a later date.
- The repurchase price is greater than the original sales price with the difference effectively representing interest (“repo rate”).
- Minimum to open:
 - Standard Repurchase Agreement: $100,000
 - Sweep Repurchase Agreement: $0.01
 - The account activity is based on maintaining a set threshold balance in the related Bank account. The threshold amount is based on analysis of account activity and is subject to annual review.
- Additional Terms and Conditions apply and can be obtained from the Investment Department.

Mutual Fund Sweep Accounts - Not FDIC Insured – No Bank Guarantee – May Lose Value

- Mutual Fund Sweep Accounts are not FDIC insured and may lose value.
- A Mutual Fund Sweep Account is a non-deposit investment account, which allows clients to invest funds in money market mutual funds.
- The investment account is linked to an existing Bank checking account, which has a threshold target balance. Each day, all funds over the threshold target balance are automatically swept to the investment account and used to purchase the mutual fund security.
- Minimum to open: $0.01
- The account activity is based on maintaining a set threshold balance in the related Bank account. The threshold amount is based on analysis of account activity and is subject to annual review.
- Income on the Mutual Fund Sweep Account is based on the performance of the fund, which is declared daily and paid monthly.
- Additional Terms and Conditions apply and can be obtained from the Investment Department.
